

One size fits all

Asking the right Master for help.

By Maureen St Germain

Do you ever wish you had a personal assistant? Do you ever wish you are able to get some extra help in a predicament that you are in? I am here to introduce you to the Ascended Masters and my personal favorite, El Morya.

I was on a plane from Sofia, Bulgaria headed to Frankfurt. My next flight was Frankfurt-Chicago and I had only 55 minutes to make my connection. I was really tired from eight 12 hour days of teaching non-stop when I started to drift off to sleep. My slumber was disturbed by the pilot announcing that we were going to be delayed on the tarmac for at least 30 minutes due to heavy air traffic and high wind. I thought about my connecting flight in 55 minutes and asked my favorite teacher, El Morya, "If you want me to make this connection, you are going to have to do something, because I do not know how I will be able to catch the flight back to the United States."

As I drifted off to sleep again, I vaguely remember the pilot making a new announcement that air traffic control had given him a revised flight plan, flying lower than usual, and that we would be taking off shortly. I have no idea whether our wait was five or fifty minutes. When we landed in Frankfurt, I showed my Chicago boarding pass to the flight attendant who had initially re-assured me that I should be able to make my connections.

This time though, he looked carefully at the ticket, announcing to me that my connection was in another terminal. Knowing the departure time, he seriously responded, "Oh! Your flight is in the other terminal. Good luck." His voice sounded grim, like he didn't expect me to make it.

I disembarked to find a man in a white shirt and tie, wearing a neon safety-vest with a sign "Mr. St. Germain." I walked up to him to ask if he could be looking for Ms. St. Germain. After examining my boarding pass and checking me off his clipboard, he announced that he was here to escort me to my next flight.

I followed him behind locked doors and corridors. We went down a private elevator that he used his pass key to operate. Next, I found myself walking beside him on the tarmac, next to a jumbo jet, closer than I've ever been to the outside of a giant bird. Out of nowhere, a black Mercedes pulled up, it popped the trunk, and he put my carry-on luggage in it. He opened the door for me and I got in. He jumped into the front seat next to the driver. The flags on the rear of the car were waving.

We drove across the field pulling up next to a door and we did the same thing in reverse. It was amazing, following him through corridors and locked elevators. He stayed with me through the ticket and passport check near to the gate, and stayed for the high security inspection now done on any planes headed for the States. Once I was checked in, he departed. I was able to get on board with 15 minutes to spare before take off. Believe me, when El Morya wants to make a point, he will do it in style.

How do you gain access to this kind of magic? Invite the Ascended Masters to help you. Take time to find out who they are. You probably are already assigned to one in particular. El Morya is the master on the Ray of the Will of God. He is one of the masters that I work with. He has worked many many miracles in my life. Please do not take my word for it; check it out for yourself.

One of the best books out there is called The Ascended Masters and their Retreats by Mark and Elizabeth Prophet. You can purchase it at Barnes and Noble bookstores. You can also find a complete listing of the Ascended Masters on Ellie Crystal's website, www.crystalinks.com. Ellie has a big connection with the Ascended Masters and her website has a short description of many of them.

Getting back to El Morya; he's a very straight-laced dude. One time, when I didn't get the lesson that was being presented to me, I complained to him that I was tired of being the scapegoat, and that I expected to be treated fairly. Just in case, I added, "If there is a message in this situation for me, I didn't get it and you are going to have to do it again."

The very next day, a phone call came in from a bigger authority, "Maureen honey, you know I love you..." and the message to me was the same. That day, after work, you can bet I went straight to my altar and said, "OK, I get it. Thank you."

How do you ask the Ascended Masters into your life? Start by naming the Master, and then saying something like, "El Morya, I need some big help here because I don't know how this can possibly work out." Believe me, if your goal is to follow your Divine Purpose and ask for help from the Master in charge of that - El Morya - you will get the help you need; or, the realization that the way you thought you should do something will change to something new. I don't always get exactly what I have named, but when I call in El Morya, I can recognize his "First Ray" message, and so will you.

Maureen can be reached at:

www.TransformationalEnterprisesInc.com Maureen's book, You are the Genie in the Bottle, published by Hampton Roads Publishing, will be available in 2006.