

Brief description of Genie in the Bottle

In this book, Maureen St.Germain provides you with the keys to conscious co-creation. The reality we see as external and God or Fate determined by cause and effect is an illusion. The fact is we are all co-creating our reality in every moment. But are we creating unconsciously or consciously? Are we creating our worst nightmares through fear or our highest choice/most benevolent outcome through love?

Rather than having us rely on faith that her method is effective, Maureen shows us the logical, left-brained proof of the malleability of our Universe from the annals of the frontier sciences of quantum mechanics and chaos theory. Once your left-brain understands that the sacred ratio Phi is the relationship that underlies/ underpins all creation, you will be convinced that Maureen's system works. The next step is to clarify your heart's desire. Once you have an outcome clearly defined, you visualize an event that happens after you have your heart's desire. This is an acknowledgement from someone else confirming that your desired outcome has actually happened.

Then all you have to do is relax, show up and do your part.
